ALBA PEPA Course Fees: Sliding Scale

In order to fulfill its mission and funder requirements, ALBA uses a sliding scale to assess course fees. Fees are determined by student's annual household income and number of dependents (based on HUD 2010 median incomes for Monterey County). In order to be eligible for reduced course fees, the applicant must provide documentation to substantiate their income and dependent declaration. Full price course fee is $2,500.

How to read this graph:

1. Find your family income range on the left margin.
2. Determine how many dependents you have (which can be children or disabled adults).
3. Find the price at the intersection of those two areas above.
4. That is your fee for enrollment.

Rate for entire course

| Annual family income* | 0 dependents | 1-2 dependents | 3-4 dependents | 5+ dependents |
|---|---------------------|-----------------------|-----------------------|----------------------|
| 0-$16,525 (under 25% median income) | 225 | 200 | 175 | 150 |
| $16,525-$33,050 (25-50% median income) | 400 | 350 | 300 | 250 |
| $33,050-$52,880 (50-80% median income) | 875 | 750 | 625 | 500 |
| $52,880-$79,320 (80-120% median income) | 1,500 | 1,300 | 1,100 | 900 |
